SYCAMORE ST
The FISHER
SCHOOL
SECRETARIAL
GIRLS

It's 1983 here at Fisher Junior College, and we the Class of 1983, mark its 80th Anniversary.

In 1903, Fisher Junior College was founded, and opened its doors to young men and women eager to establish an educational background. Being the turn of the century, the business world was just beginning and young people were anxious to be a part of it. For many, this meant a change of life, with a move from the serenity of the country to the fast-paced life of the city. Knowing this was a hard adjustment, Fisher Junior College was there to provide confidence and pride, as well as to help towards the achievements of their goals.

Throughout the past 80 years, Fisher's name has been tested on the basis of a quality institution because of the numerous hardships that past generations encountered; the war, depression, and social change. These all had a great impact on everything encompassed in the business world. Even though these problems arose, Fisher stood behind its commitment to provide a solid education for its students.

The original house in Somerville, Massachusetts, where Fisher Junior College got its beginning in 1903.

And of course, as the way of life changed, so did Fisher, keeping up with all of the new changes and always updating equipment as well as the other aspects incorporated in a college. In 1903, the demand for skilled typists was incredible, as the typewriter was the business machine of the future. Today, after 80 years, the computer is the business machine of the future, and of course Fisher offers strong programs in this field, and will offer it as a major in the very near future.

Today at Fisher, one will find it to be a sound institution providing us with the best possible education a junior college has to offer. In the 80 years that Fisher has been in existence, many of its own goals have been achieved. Fisher has maintained and preserved the Beacon Street mansion to the same state as when it was purchased. Fisher is also proud of its accomplishments in establishing 34 extensions for Continuing Education. The Beacon Street mansion now is solely utilized as a women's college, while the extensions are co-educational. Both are capable of providing men and women of all ages with certificates and degrees to "make it" in the competitive business world of today.

After all, 80 years of experience is behind our education.

DEDICATION

The two years that we attended Fisher Junior College were ones which touched our lives through experiences, and broadened our spectrum of goals through demands which were expected of everyone.

With the help of the faculty here at Fisher, our expectations of college life were fulfilled to the greatest extent.

With great honor and pride, we the class of 1983, dedicate our Beacon to you, the faculty of Fisher Junior College.

CANDIDS

I enjoy dormitory life because I have met many new friends with whom I hope to keep in touch. I feel dorm life has changed me as a person. I have become more independent and responsible, living here at Fisher. The atmosphere of dorm life is comfortable and a lot of fun. It's been a terrific experience, meeting friends, growing up and I wouldn't change it for the world.

COMMUTERS

Commuting to Fisher is fun. A casual atmosphere in the student union encourages new friendships. Fisher commuter students are equally involved in all school functions and activities as well as having their own Commuters' Club.

Commuting to Fisher is interesting and informative. A variety of people can be seen and met on the rides to and from Fisher. Commuters can also tell you just about all there is to know about the transit systems and schedules.

Being a part of Boston and feeling the excitement of the city can really be exhilarating, and Fisher commuters make the best weathergirls!

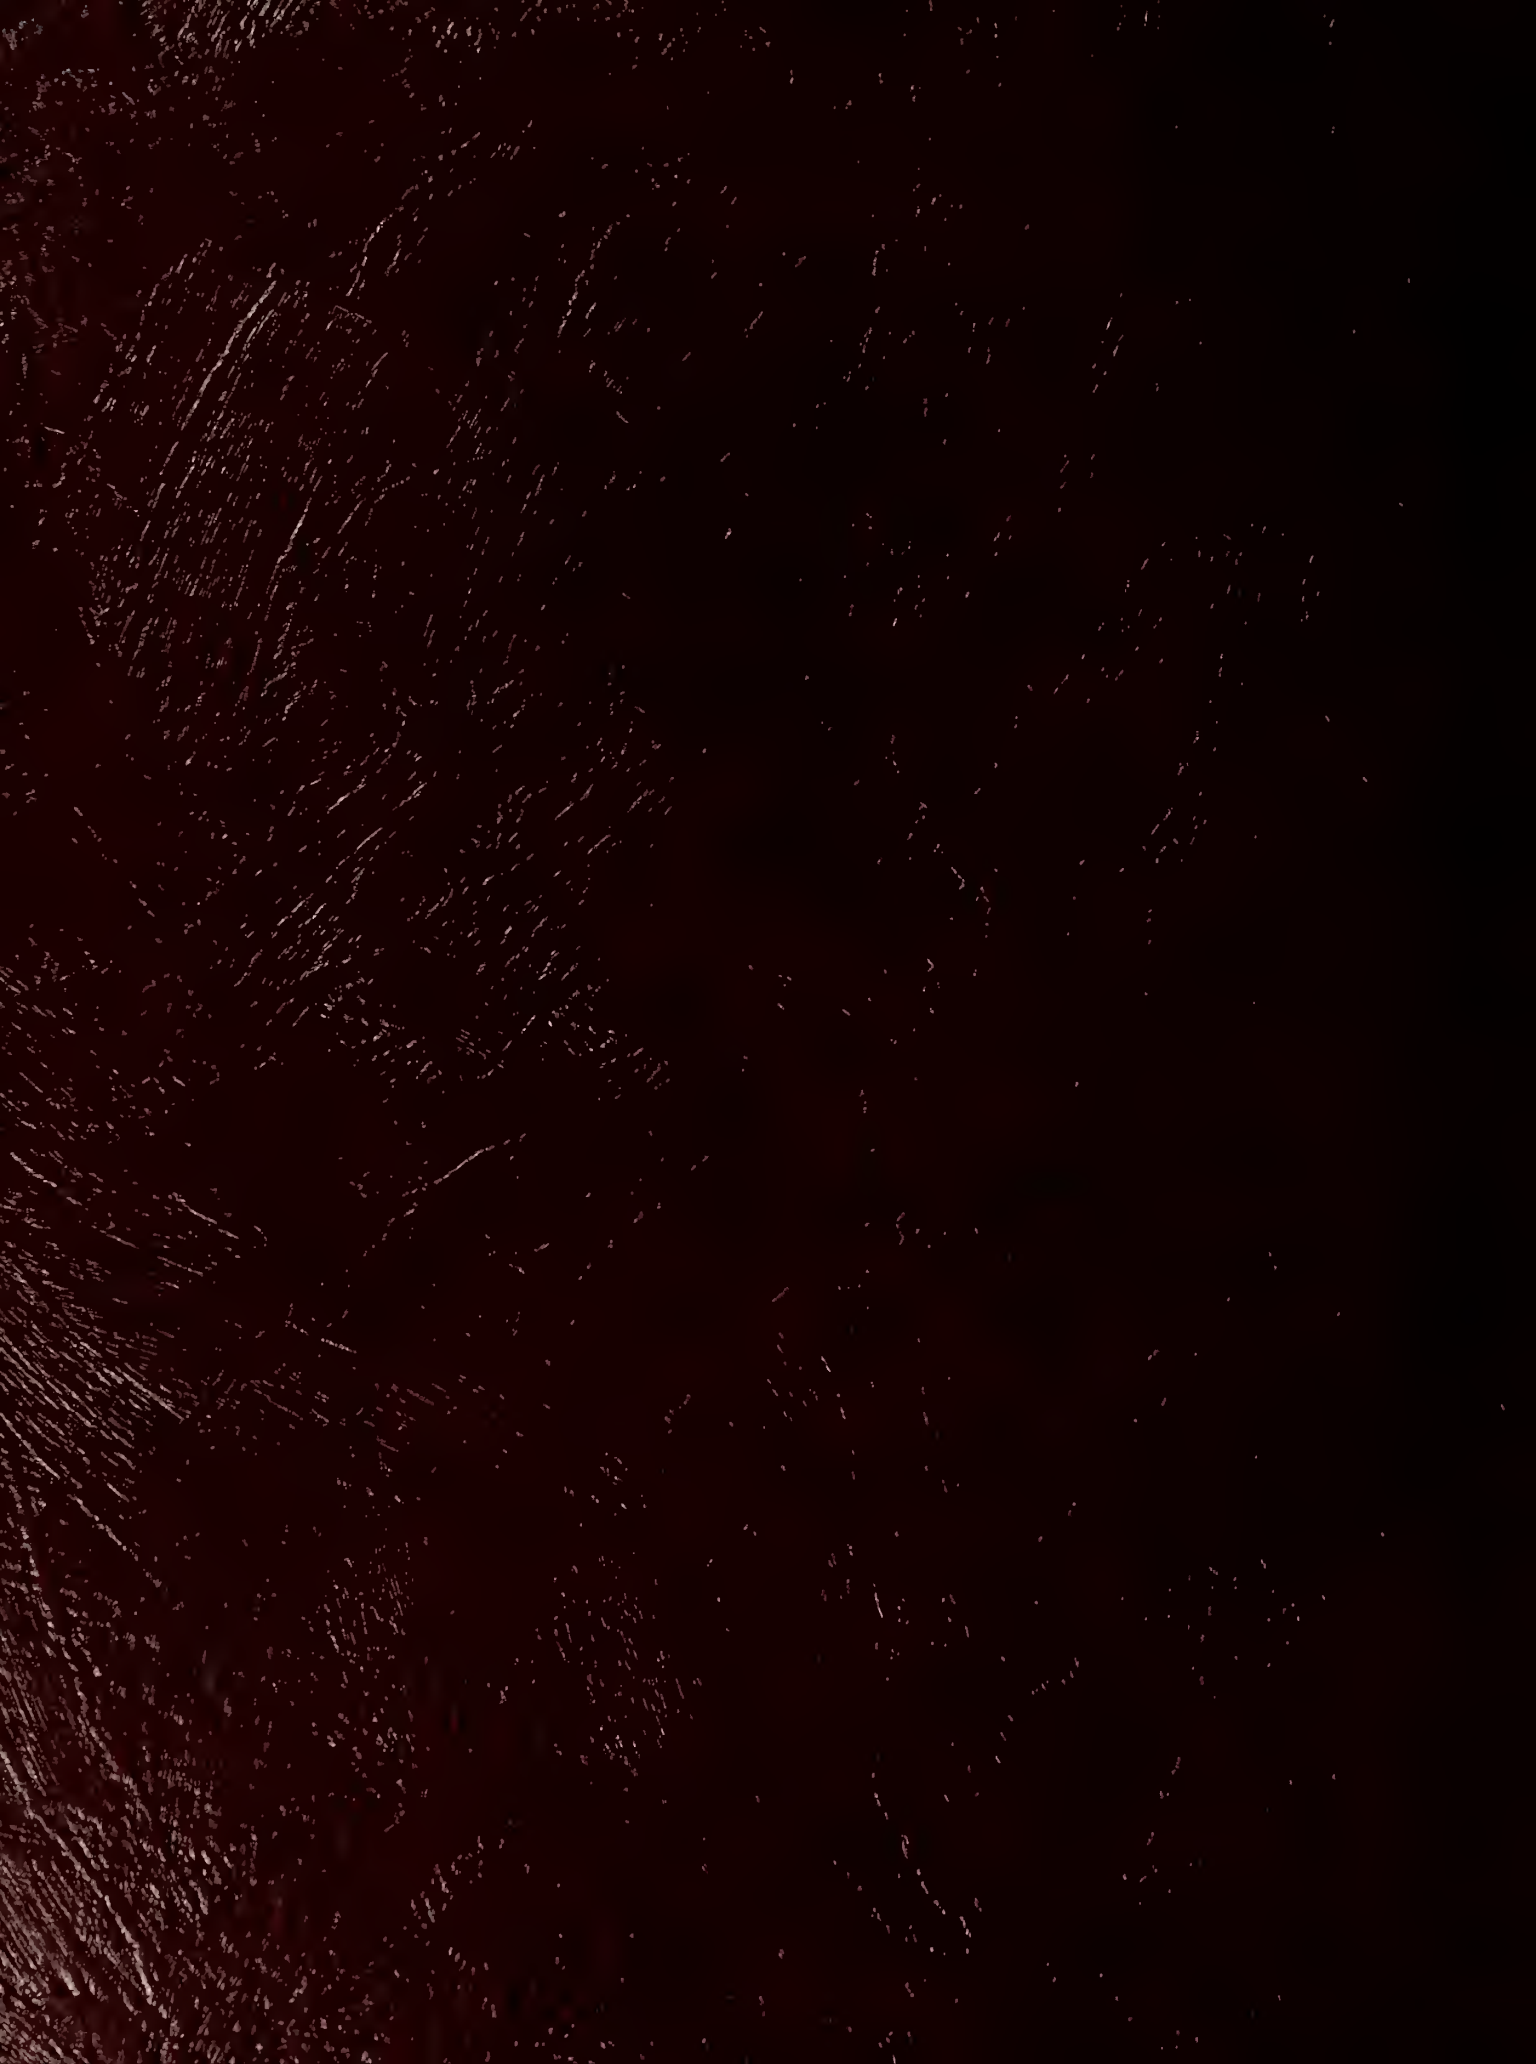
To the Senior Class:

When you receive this yearbook, it will be one of our last times spent together as a whole. Each and everyone of us will soon be on our way in different directions, whether it be in pursuit of a career, continuing your education, or anything else you might choose to do.

For many of us, this will be a last farewell, but as for the yearbook, it will be a remembrance of your two years spent here at Fisher, and something you can look back upon for memories of old friends.

I wish all of you the best of luck after you leave Fisher, and hope that all of your lives are filled with achievements and happiness.


Sarah L. Goodhue,
Editor in Chief
